

Marthas Table

Washington, DC, USA

- Architect cox graae + spack architects, Washington, USA
- Facade Largo Swisspearl Nobilis Custom Color
Largo Swisspearl Carat Amber 7073
Largo Swisspearl Carat Anthracite 7021
- Location 2375 Elvans Road SE, Washington, DC 20020 USA
- Photographer Brycen Fischer Photography LLC, Lutherville, USA
- Type of Building Educational, Multipurpose

The Commons at Stanton Square, so called Martha's Table, is a 55,000 square foot campus for community programs that supports the healthy development of children and their families in a welcoming and safe environment. Designed by Washington, DC firm Cox Graae Spack Architects, the Commons was completed in May of 2018 for Martha's Table. The building features the use of four colors of Swisspearl fiber cement panels in a vertical orientation.

